How do we work?

1

We make an analysis of the products we are going to distribute. That is to say, life cycle, after-sales service, competition, etc.

2

We analyze the target market and propose a strategy according to each type of customer.

3

We set in motion the entire commercial machinery through different channels of communication and sales to offer the product to the customer and close sales.

4

Every 15 days we make an analysis of the results obtained, in order to rethink strategies to reach an optimal point.

We do not acquire the product, we take care of selling it and closing contracts
